Run Wild

(Barbra Streisand, 1980)

I wandered into your wonderland
With eyes open wide
You turned me into your yesterday
But you will remain inside of me
Like I care for you
Ooh, I care for you
Run wild
Out on the edge of time, child
Carry your dreams away, love
No one can hold you now
For you are an island
I may be heartbroken but understand
My love will get by
There will be others along the way my love
They will try and care for me
Like I care for you, ooh like I care for you
Run wild, out on the edge of time, child
Carry your dreams away love
No one can hold you now
For you are an island
